

Q1 Participation Rubric

Weight of assessment in final grade: 20%

Type of assessment: individual

Evaluator: Supervisor and director CSBB

	Learning outcomes (numbers based on overall outcomes)	Criteria	Fail	Pass
Communication	1.d. Use questioning and listening techniques to improve communication in a classes and scientific context.	Actively participates in meetings (25%)	Student has not participated regularly during Friday symposia.	Student has participated regularly during Friday symposia.
		Listening skills (25%)	Does not listen to others; regularly talks while others speak or does not pay attention while others speak; detracts from discussion; sleeps, etc.	Student listens attentively when others present materials, perspectives, as indicated by comments that build on others' remarks, i.e., student hears what others say & contributes to the dialogue
		Formulate questions (25%)	Questions are often irrelevant, unclear and shallow, resulting in disengagement and disinterest during the meeting.	Questions are relevant, clear and thought-provoking. They actively engage participants, fostering enthusiasm, interest and in-depth discussion.
Collaboration	2.b. Use a group approach to identify problems and develop creative solutions, integrating different knowledge, perspectives and ideas.	Quality of comments (25%)	Comments are uninformative, lacking in appropriate terminology. Heavy reliance on opinion & personal taste, e.g., "I love it", "I hate it", "It's bad" etc.	Comments are insightful & constructive; uses appropriate terminology. Comments balanced between general impressions, opinions & specific, thoughtful criticisms or contributions.
		Creativity	Unable or unwilling to offer creative ideas. Struggles to offer counter opinions	Regularly offers speculative ideas to support brainstorming. Ideas are relevant and interesting.