

Q2 Participation Rubric

Weight of assessment in final grade: 20%

Type of assessment: individual

Evaluator: Hegias

	Learning outcomes (numbers based on overall outcomes)	Criteria	Fail	Pass
Communication	1.e. Use questioning and listening techniques to improve communication in a scientific context.	Participates in class (20%)	Student has not participated once during Friday symposia.	Student has regularly pro-actively participated during Friday symposia.
		Quality of comments (20%)	Comments are uninformative, lacking in appropriate terminology. Heavy reliance on opinion & personal taste, e.g., "I love it", "I hate it", "It's bad" etc.	Comments are insightful & constructive; uses appropriate terminology. Comments balanced between general impressions, opinions & specific, thoughtful criticisms or contributions.
		Listening skills (20%)	Does not listen to others; regularly talks while others speak or does not pay attention while others speak; detracts from discussion; sleeps, etc.	Student listens attentively when others present materials, perspectives, as indicated by comments that build on others' remarks, i.e., student hears what others say & contributes to the dialogue
		Formulate questions (20%)	Questions are often irrelevant, unclear and shallow, resulting in disengagement and disinterest during the meeting.	Questions are relevant, clear and thought-provoking. They actively engage participants, fostering enthusiasm, interest and in-depth discussion.
Reflect	4.b. Ask for constructive feedback of peers.	Feedback (20%)	Student has not asked for input or perspectives on projects these past ten weeks or acted on the feedback given.	Student has asked for input and help on their project these past ten weeks or has acted on the feedback given.